

drog_A_tek is a fluid music ensemble created in Athens in 2001. A disparate and eclectic ensemble, its performances are marked by improvisational turmoil. Redefining itself every time it performs, the ensemble records moments in real time and creates temporary acoustic/visual spaces. The group uses objects, analogue/digital/musical instruments, typewriters, frequencies, images, recorded files/sites and technological litter to create small, public, piecemeal narrations
