Please note: Due to the not always accessible sources, the quotation below may vary from the one read in the video.

“That is why, on the one hand, the childish world of antiquity appears as something superior. On the other hand, it is superior, wherever fixed shape, form and established limits are being looked for. It is satisfaction from a narrow standpoint; while the modern world leaves us unsatisfied or, where it does appear to be satisfied with itself, is merely vulgar.”

(Outlines of the Critique of Political Economy, Chapter on Capital. Karl Marx, Frederick Engels. Collected Works, Vol. 28, p. 412.)
