Testimonials

"The big take home message from my trip to Germany is that we can't let our children become linguistically complacent. We live in a world that through technology and air travel is becoming increasingly interconnected. Speaking English as a mother tongue doesn't mean that our children are better prepared to succeed in today's English dominated global economy"
Scott Carpenter, Lincoln Sudbury Regional High School in Massachusetts

"This trip to Berlin was absolutely amazing. It far exceeded my expectations. [...] the most powerful to me was getting a first hand appreciation of the history of Germany. Through the conversations and meetings [I understood] the importance of Germany not only in Europe but in the world." Dr. Walt Cooper, Colorado Springs
