

WUNDERBAR

A CELEBRATION OF GERMAN FILM

Instructions for Existing Kanopy Users

From October 2018 through 2019, Goethe-Institut is proud to offer our online streaming collection, “Wunderbar: A Celebration of German Film.” Viewers across the US can view 48 German films for free from the comfort of their own home.

If you already have a membership with Kanopy, often through your university or local library, follow these simple steps to add Goethe Institut as your institutional provider in order to access our collection of 48 German films. This will not affect your current affiliation with Kanopy, it simply enables you to access the 48 films that are only viewable through our institutional collection on the Kanopy website.

Step 1: Enter kanopy.com into a browser. If you are already logged in with an existing account, your name will appear in the upper right-hand corner as shown in the image. If you are not already logged in with an existing account, please see our login manual for new users and create a new account.
