When all of your possessions are taken away from you and you can only get one thing back each day, what would you do? 100 Things embodies this question through the characters of Paul and Toni, who are both deeply attached to their material possessions and are shackled by consumerism.

Notably, this film was esteemed as the Best Screenplay at the Roma Gala in Austria this 2019.

Frank, who's known as Mr. Lehmann, is a prominent person in the group of social misfits in Kreuzberg district during the 1989 West Berlin.

When he turned 30, he was still tending to his heart that was broken by a woman named Katrina. But since that time coincides with the crumbling of the Berlin Wall, he cannot help but be inspired especially as he joins the celebration induced by the historic event.

During a fateful football match with other captives of the British, goalkeeper Bernd Trautmann piqued the interest of Jack Friar, who was the manager of an amateur club. As he showed his flair in the sports, he was eventually signed to play for Man City FC. This sparked an outrage, supposedly due to the signing of the “Nazi.”

The Keeper traverses Trautmann’s journey to acceptance. Notably, it was the recipient of the Best Production accolade of Bavarian Film Awards 2019.
