Now on its fourth edition, the Goethe-Institut Philippines presents its German Film Week — a week-long celebration of the best German films of the last two years. This year, the film week features 12 full-length films, half of which focus on the Berlin Wall to commemorate the 30th anniversary of its fall.

Some of the films in the festival are Sherry Hormann's "A Regular Woman," Christian Petzold's "Barbara," and Wolfgang Becker's "Good Bye, Lenin!"

Catch the 12 German films this weekend at SM City Manila Cinema 6 and SM Megamall Cinema 2.

Tickets cost ₱100. There is a 50 percent discount for students and a 20 percent discount for seniors and PWDs.

On gold: a conversation at Calle Wright (https://www.facebook.com/events/509707909885449/?active\_tab=about)

This Saturday, artist initiative Vitamin CC, painter and graphic designer Wipo, and artists Gary-Ross Pastrana and Lesley-Anne Cao discuss the material, color, and idea of gold and their use of it in their own works. The discussion is meant to “revolve around how various artists exhibit similar tendencies and interests as a way to reconsider notions of originality and creative conditions in simultaneous but divergent artistic practices.”

The event is happening from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Calle Wright art house.

The talk is free and open to the public.

Calle Wright is located at 1890 Vasquez St., Manila. For more information, visit the Facebook event page.
