What will I learn?	This Women's day, let us explore the journey of how two countries, India and Germany, through their constitutions, have been making a continuing effort to realise that gender based equality penetrates across spheres of our lives. The workshop will focus on following aspects - Societal and Political context for fight for gender equality in India and Germany - Evolution of gender equality as a constitutional principle in India and Germany - Understanding political, social and economic rights of women through the lens of Constitution of India and Germany	The workshop will address the questions of what are the causes,characteristics and effects of toxic masculinity on our daily lives. What is considered masculine and feminine and how do they relate to male and female? By engaging students in activities like reflecting on film clips,written passages or through enactments via games like charades the question- ' Who is a real man? ' will be answered. The workshop will help students identify expressions of masculinity that are harmful and think of more positive and heterogeneous models of masculinity.	Drone technology combines robotics, electronics, avionics, geospatial sciences, programming, machine learning, and data science. We want girls to experience, learn and master these applications, and bring their unique personality to the impact that can be created through these projects. This workshop is a glimpse of what drone technology looks like, what it can do, how to fly drones safely and how to program the drones for autonomous operations such as medical deliveries, agriculture, mining, infrastructure and disaster risk reduction.	Over the course of this two-day workshop, participants will learn about the art of Hand-Lettering and create their own slogans on women's empowerment / women's rights.	An individual and collective reflection workshop for young people to think about inclusion of girls and women. - a safe space to reflect on why inclusion of girls and women is crucial - to collectively explore discourses and stereotypes held about girls and women in various contexts like education, profession, home, public spaces which impact women and their mental health - to engage in conversations to unpack skills and little acts of care which would create more inclusive spaces for girls and women - to build connections and solidarity amongst group members	Be a part of a debate that breaks off from the conventional mode of debating, where you get to speak both "for" and "against" a topic. Debate topic: Gender Equality Never taken part in a debate before? Don't worry, we will conduct special preparatory classes prior to this workshop to teach you a few tips & tricks of the art of debating. Date and Time of these classes will be sent directly to those who register for this workshop.
