

Palak Kothari

Palak is an intern at Goethe-Institut / Max Mueller Bhavan Kolkata and is pursuing a Master's Degree in German Literature at Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi. She first crossed paths with the German Language while she was a student of Modern High School for Girls. With the completion of the B2-Level at Goethe-Institut Kolkata, her interest in the language grew profoundly and motivated her to complete Diploma and Advanced Diploma in German Language at St. Stephen's College, University of Delhi. While simultaneously pursuing B.A. (H) Political Science at Hindu College DU, most of her (scant) leisure time was spent in drinking coffee.

Over time, she has observed that music and movies have been a constant support system in her life. As silent teachers, art in its various forms has been there for her, easing the transition towards the new with its touch of familiarity. Palak hopes to help others in a similar way someday and looks forward to new experiences.