

Registering and Logging In on My.Goethe.de

Have you booked your language course via our website? Then you already have a My.Goethe.de-Account! You can skip steps 1-7 and go directly to step 8!

Please be aware that the email address and date of birth you used to open your “My.Goethe.de” account needs to be the same email you used when registering for your German course!

If you have not registered online and have never created an account before, this is what you need to do:

1. The entrance to the virtual world of the Goethe Institute is the SIGN IN button at www.goethe.de

This button will take you to the screen for registering and logging in. When you visit the page for the first time, click on the 'Register' button.

2. Enter your email address, your (personal, chosen by you) password and country here. Click the box for “consent to the creation of a personalized user profile”. Finally, click on “REGISTER” to complete the process.

STILL LIFE WITH TOMATOES
(9 February 2015) In art history, the tomato was a prominent feature for Andy Warhol with his Campbell's soup cans. Yet Christine Schäfer reveals that vegetables can be more than industrially produced foodstuffs. And that she is more than a world-renowned soprano. [more ...]

4. Check your inbox for an email with the sender 'noReply-kdf'¹

5. Open the email with the heading 'My Goethe.de / activate access' and click on the confirmation link within.²

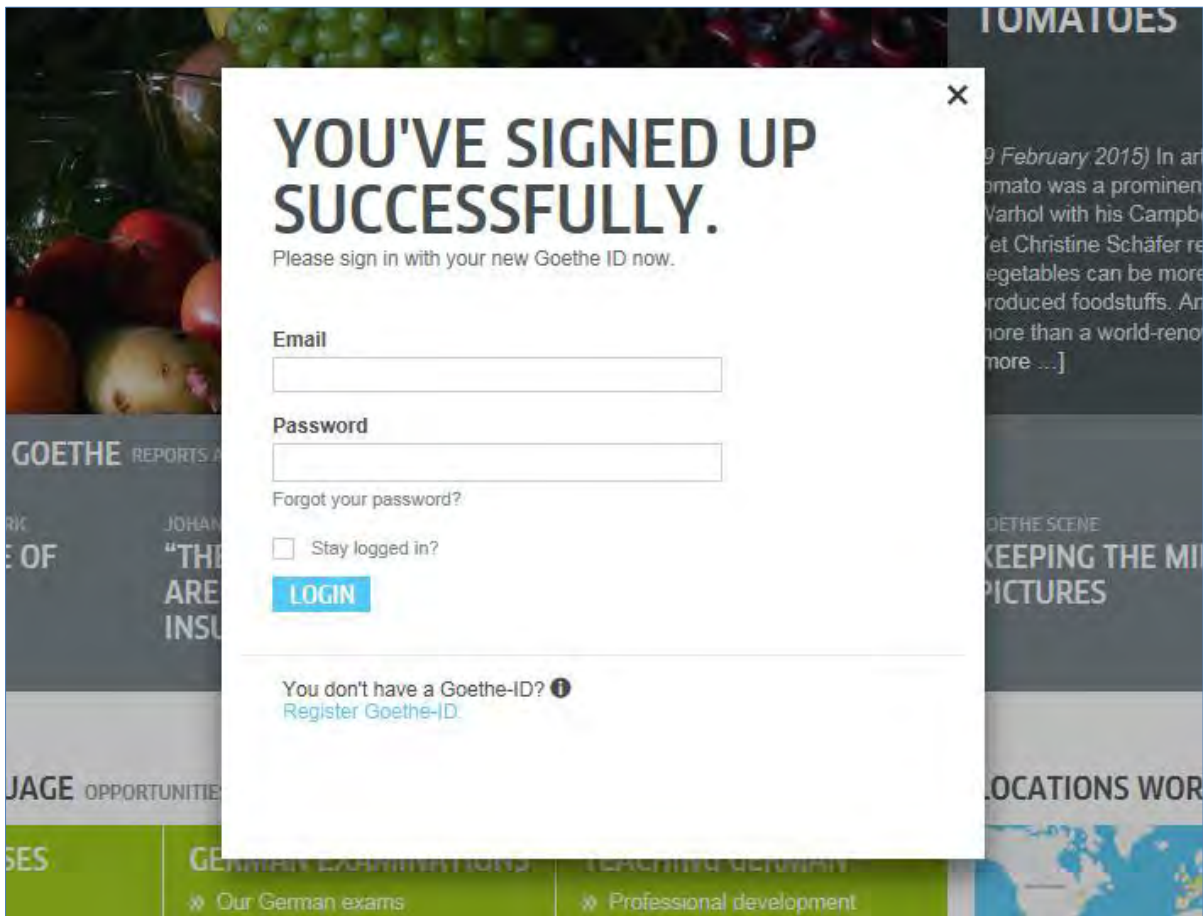

¹ We need to send this email in order to check whether your login definitely works with the email address given.

² Warning: If you do not see any emails with the sender address noReply-kdf@goethe.de in your inbox, it may be because of the following:

- The activation email comes from outside the scope of your email program and email provider, from an unknown sender, and contains standardized content. Mails with these features are often not sent directly. Check your 'spam' or 'unknown' mailbox (or equivalent thereof), as our activation email may have gone there instead.
- If this is not the case, you may have made a mistake when entering your email address. Go back to the registration page on MeinGoethe.de. If you attempt to log in and receive a message that the address has already been registered, the problem lies elsewhere. If that is the case, please inform the language course office or your instructor.

- The link will take you back to the login screen. Enter your email address and password, and then click LOGIN.

- Click again on your personal username...

... and then on MY GOETHE.DE

8. (Go to My.Goethe.de) This will take you to your user page, which you can now make your own; you can edit your personal profile, subscribe to the Goethe Institute's newsletters for different areas of interest, join various communities, and choose your preferred language.

8.1. My Profile: If you click on 'MY PROFILE'...

...you will see the following menu.

If you want, you can change your preferred language with the 'Signup data' option.
