- 2.4 All persons participating in the submitted videos must have agreed to this.
- 2.5 A person will participate in the video competition if she/he has registered during the competition according to the specifications of the Goethe-Institut on the website www.goethe.de/zypern/wofurbrennstdu and submitted their video in accordance with section 3.1.
- 2.6 Participation in the competition and the chances of success are not dependent upon the purchase of goods or services.

3. Execution and Completion

- 3.1 Participation in the video competition requires that a group of two or three persons self-produce a video on the topic “Wofür brennst du?”, which is made available to the jury for the purposes of voting via a WeTransfer link, in addition to making contact details available and accepting the conditions of participation. 4. Rights of Use

- 4.1 The participants grant the Goethe-Institut the spatially and temporally unrestricted right to all known and unknown types of use pertaining to the contribution they have created for the purpose of competition entry. This includes, in particular, the right to reproduce and distribute the contribution by means of video or audio recordings, the right to make it publicly available on the internet, including use in social media networks (e.g. Facebook, YouTube, Vimeo) and the right of exhibition. The right of use is granted free of charge. The Goethe-Institut is entitled to grant the aforementioned rights to third parties.
- 4.2 The participants ensure that the uploaded video is not subject to the rights of a third-party, in particular copyrights, other ancillary copyrights or personal rights, and that the video can be used freely. They shall, as a matter of precaution, indemnify the Goethe-Institut from all third-party claims derived from the statement that the above assurance does not apply.
- 4.3 The Goethe-Institut is entitled, but not obliged, to use the contributions created by the participants. The Goethe-Institut will name the participants in any form of use.

5. Liability

- 5.1 The Goethe-Institut accepts no liability whatsoever for the loss or incompleteness of the transmitted data by the participant, unless such loss or incompleteness is the result of a deliberate act or gross negligence on the part of the Goethe-Institut or its employees. This also applies to the disclosure of information by third parties due to technical faults in the data transfer and/or unauthorised access.
- 5.2 In the event of liability for compensation on the part of the Goethe-Institut, the following exclusions and limitations of liability remain unaffected by the other legal eligibility criteria according to Section 5.
- 5.3 The Goethe-Institut shall incur unlimited liability should the cause of damage be due to intent or gross negligence.
- 5.4 Moreover, the Goethe-Institut is liable for the slightly negligent breach of essential obligations, the breach of which jeopardizes the achievement of the purpose of the contract, or for the breach of obligations, the fulfilment of which are essential for the proper implementation of the competition and whose compliance the participants regularly rely on. However, in this case, the Goethe-Institut is only liable for the foreseeable, contractually typical damage. The Goethe-Institut is not liable for the slightly negligent breach of obligations other than those specified in the preceding sentences.

- 5.5 The aforementioned limitations of liability shall not apply to injury to life, limb and health, for a defect after assumption of a guarantee of product quality and for fraudulently concealed defects. Liability under the Product Liability Act remains unaffected.
- 5.6 Insofar as the liability of the Goethe-Institut is ruled out or limited, this also applies to the personal liability of the employees, representatives and vicarious agents of the Goethe-Institut.

6. Data Protection

- 6.1 The participant allows the Goethe-Institut to process the personal data entered for the implementation of the competition by the Goethe-Institut, insofar as this is necessary for the implementation of the competition and/or the exercise of the rights of use in accordance with Section 4, in return for the opportunity to participate in the competition. Personal data includes the name, contact details and photo, and, if required, any other personal information provided by the participant himself/herself.
- 6.2 The participant can withdraw from the competition at any time and/or delete or block the data he/she has published on www.goethe.de. In order to prevent further processing by the Goethe-Institut, it is required that a revocation is declared to the Goethe-Institut (in the appendix, see the information in accordance with Article 13 GDPR).

8. Premature End of the Competition

- 8.1 The Goethe-Institut points out that the availability and function of the competition cannot be guaranteed. The competition can be terminated or removed because of external circumstances or constraints without claims on the part of the participants against the Goethe-Institut. This can include organizational or technical problems (e.g. viruses in the computer system, manipulation or errors in the hardware and/or software).
- 8.2 The Goethe-Institut is entitled to terminate the competition prematurely at any time without prior warning and without giving reasons.

9. Final Provisions

- 9.1 Legal action is excluded in regard to the implementation of the process of determining the winners and deciding on the results.

- 9.2 The performance of the competition and the legal relationships of the persons involved in the competition complies exclusively with the law of the Federal Republic of Germany, regardless of the location from which a participant takes part in the competition. This choice of law applies to consumers only insofar as the consumer is not deprived of the protection granted to him/her by the mandatory consumer regulations of the country in which he/she has his/her habitual residence.
- 9.3 Should individual provisions of these Conditions of Participation be or become invalid or unenforceable, the validity of the remaining conditions shall remain unaffected.
- 9.4 These Conditions of Participation are available in German and English. In the event of any inconsistency between the two language versions, the German version shall prevail.
