Wednesday Movie Nights - Der Verdacht (The Suspicion)

We are pleased to present to you our new Frank Beyer film series. We will be showing the following film this Wednesday, December 17, 2014 at 6pm at the Goethe-Institut Library:

Der Verdacht (The Suspicion)Director: Frank Beyer, colour, 98 min., 1990-91

A love story from the GDR, which just barely manages to avoid turning into a tragedy in the mid 70s. Karin, the daughter of the Socialist Unity Party official, Kurt Melzer, loves Frank. The young man has gone through some hard times and for that reason alone doesn't conform to the image of a perfect future son-in-law. Moreover, Kurt and his comrades harbour a nasty suspicion about Frank's political sentiments. Karin, who has just started working for a newspaper and wants to start studying soon, is to give up the relationship. And so Karin does exactly that, yielding to the pressure from her parents and in the hope of getting a place at university. When Frank tries to commit suicide, the young, now pregnant woman decides to go back to her boyfriend after all. Her father seems to have learned something, too. THE SUSPICION was the first feature film by the great DEFA director Frank Beyer and came out after the Fall of the Wall.
