PASCH AT A GLANCE

Awakening interest and enthusiasm for Germany, motivating young people to learn German and creating an international network of schools – those are the aims of the PASCH initiative. PASCH stands for “Schools: Partners for the Future”.

PASCH IN THE GULF REGION

The Goethe-Institut Gulf Region actively supports PASCH schools in Oman, the United Arab Emirates, Qatar, and Kuwait. Through targeted language programs, teacher training, and cultural events, we help schools bring the German language and culture closer to young people. This fosters international connections and opens diverse future opportunities for students – in line with the PASCH initiative: Schools – Partners for the Future.

PASCH WORLDWIDE

The initiative is a global network of some 2000 schools that place a high value on German. PASCH partners provide advice to head teachers, ministries and schools on developing German teaching. Seconded PASCH partner experts visit the schools to provide direct support. Fostering exchange between international and German PASCH schools is a particular priority. The platform partnerschulnetz.de is an important tool in developing school partnerships.
