

Learn German.

Expand horizons.

Discover career opportunities with German.

Learning German has been an incredibly formative and connecting experience! I have a greater understanding of others and myself thanks to learning German.

Meet Courtney.

Courtney's journey learning German has taken her from the South Pacific to experience the beautiful lifestyle in Southern Germany. She first learned German during college and continued to study it at Victoria University in Wellington, graduating with a BA in German and Modern Languages. She then went on to do her Masters and then PhD in Literary Translation. Thanks to German she is now a teaching fellow at the university.

Speaking a foreign language keeps your brain healthy and young for longer.

Discover career opportunities with German in New Zealand.

- ☒ Become a German teacher at a New Zealand school.
- ☒ Work at one of the German institutions in New Zealand such as the Goethe-Institut in Wellington, the German Embassy in Wellington or the German-NZ Chamber of Commerce in Auckland.
- ☒ Pursue a career in Foreign Affairs in New Zealand or get posted overseas.
- ☒ Work at one of the many German companies in NZ or a sector that has ties to Germany, such as: STEM, sales, the energy or construction sector, tourism or hospitality.

You can study German at university, even if you did not take it in school:

- University of Auckland (on campus)
- Victoria University of Wellington (remote/on campus)
- University of Canterbury (remote/on campus)
- University of Otago (online)

Any questions Get in touch.

German Embassy in Wellington for visa queries and applications for IPS and language assistants.

DAAD: German Academic Exchange Service for all things study in Germany.

German-New Zealand Chamber of Commerce for all bilateral trade connections.

This information was brought to you by Goethe-Institut Neuseeland.

Contact us with any questions related to learning German in New Zealand:
www.goethe.de/nz

Meet Shantia.

Shantia learned German at his high school in Hamilton. He then attended a course with the Goethe-Institut before moving to Munich to study Aerospace Engineering. Now in his final year, he hopes to pursue a career as an engineer in Germany.

Learning a language takes time, but you'd be surprised at how many opportunities open up along the way. It allowed me to move here to study. Living and working in Germany has completely immersed me in the language and culture, accelerating my learning in ways I never imagined.

Discover career opportunities with German in Germany.

- ☒ Apply for the IPS (International Parliamentary Scholarship) in Berlin. Contact the German Embassy for further details.
- ☒ Go to Germany as an English Language Assistant and work at a German school. Contact the German Embassy.
- ☒ Study at a university in Germany. Low fees, high quality education.
- ☒ Apply for a scholarship for German courses at the DAAD (German Academic Exchange Service).
- ☒ Go to Germany on a Working Holiday Visa.
- ☒ Take your qualification overseas and work in Germany in your field of expertise.

Learn the language before you go.

Learn German at your local school or at the Goethe-Institut New Zealand.