

CALL FOR TENDER CCTV SERVICES

The Goethe-Institut London is inviting qualified vendors to submit proposals for the replacement of our current indoor and outdoor CCTV systems.

Our current CCTV infrastructure is based on the Samsung SRD-1650DC Digital Video Recorder and it dates back to 2012. It has become outdated in terms of image quality, coverage, and manageability. We are seeking proposals from CCTV providers to upgrade our system, which potentially includes the supply, installation, configuration, and optional ongoing maintenance of a modern and compliant CCTV solution.

Location: 50 and 51 Princes Gate (excluding the restaurant) SW7 2PH, Exhibition Road

The current infrastructure includes six indoor cameras and four outdoor cameras. There is a potential requirement for the installation of up to four additional cameras (14 in total) to enhance overall coverage.

I. Required services

Suppliers are expected to:

- Conduct a site survey and recommend optimal placement for the current cameras and expand coverage to include additional locations not currently monitored.
- Provision of all essential hardware may be arranged.
- Install and connect all surveillance equipment, including cameras and network infrastructure, ensuring full functionality and possible integration with existing systems.
- Ensure compliance with UK data protection and surveillance regulations.
- Offer optional ongoing maintenance and support packages if it offers convenience or added value.

A full cost breakdown should be provided, covering equipment, installation and any optional services, such as available maintenance options.

For transparency, our internal IT team has proposed the use of Meraki MV22 cameras for indoor deployment and Meraki MV72 cameras for outdoor deployment. These models are compatible with our existing systems, support direct server integration (only available with these models), and offer cloud-based management. Your offer will be evaluated against this baseline specification.

Please submit installation-only proposals if you recommend we procure the cameras ourselves.
