PROGRAMME

REGISTRATION HERE:
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/1982790651213?aff=oddtdtcreator

Friday, 27 February

16:30–17:00 Arrival

17:00–17:30 Welcome addresses

17:30–18:00 Lecture — David Berry, Professor of Digital Humanities, University of Sussex

Topic: Provenance Anxiety: Death of the Author in the Age of Large Language Models

18:00–18:15 Q&A

18:15–19:45 Roundtable

Topic: Literary Creation in the Age of Large Language Models: What is happening, what will happen, what would we like to happen

Moderator: Nikos Erinakis, Poet; Assistant Professor of Social & Political Philosophy and Philosophy of Culture, University of Crete; Treasurer of the Board, Hellenic Authors' Society

Participants: Dimosthenis Kourtovik, Author and Literary Critic, Lila Konomara, Author and Translator; Board Member, Hellenic Authors' Society, Despina Katapoti, Associate Professor of Cultural Theory and Digital Culture, University of the Aegean, Eugenia Bozou, Public Policy & Government Affairs Lead for Greece, Google

19:45–20:00 Q&A

20:00 Light dinner

Saturday, 28 February

10:30–11:00 Arrival

11:00–11:30 Lecture — Chris Durt , Philosopher, Interdisciplinary Researcher, and Senior Researcher Lecturer at the Technical University of Munich (TUM)

Topic: LLMs and the Death of the Author

11:30–11:45 Q&A

11:45–13:15 Roundtable

Topic: AI Tools in Translation: Is convenience a trap? Translators or editors — and what is the difference?

Moderator: Christos Asteriou, Author; Vice President of the Hellenic Authors' Society

Participants: Vasilis Babouris, Translator; Director of Studies, meta|phrasis Translator Training Centre, Lizy Tsirimokou, Translator; Professor Emerita of General and Comparative Literature, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Thanassis Chatzopoulos, Poet, Translator and Psychoanalyst, Katerina Schina, Translator and Literary Critic

13:15–13:30 Q&A

13:30–14:30 Light lunch

14:30–15:00 Lecture — Tobias Blanke, Professor of Artificial Intelligence and Humanities, University of Amsterdam; Professor of Social and Cultural Informatics, King's College London
Topic: Why is AI (all of a sudden) so invested in culture? Deep learning's insatiable appetite
15:00–15:15 Q&A
15:15–16:30 Roundtable
Topic: AI in Education: Opportunity or Trojan horse?
Moderator: Yiannis Baskozos, Author and Journalist
Participants: Maria Feidaki, Philologist; Member of the Panhellenic Association of Philologists, Maria Papadopoulou, Assistant Professor, Department of Philology, University of Crete; Project Coordinator and Head of the Research Team, TALOS – Artificial Intelligence for the Humanities and Social Sciences Programme, Vangelis Iliopoulos, Author and Educator, Dionyssis Goutsos, Professor of Text Linguistics, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens
16:30–16:45 Q&A
16:45–17:15 Lecture — Monika Pfundmeier, German Author; 2nd Vice President of the European Writers' Council (EWC); expert on AI and authors' rights
Topic: Writing Future, Doing right(s), Keeping up the fight. Perspectives for and from Europe by the European Writers' Council
17:15–17:30 Q&A
17:30–18:45 Roundtable
Topic: Critical Approaches to Large Language Systems — By whom, for whom, with whom? For Society or for the Market? Uncontrolled race or public regulation?
Moderator: Titika Dimitroulia, Translator; Professor, Department of Theatre Studies, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens
Participants: Nikolas Sevastakis, Author; Professor of Political Philosophy, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Manolis Patiniotis, Professor of History of Science and Technology (Modern Era), National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, Stavros Zoumpoulakis, Author and Educator; President of the Supervisory Board, National Library of Greece, Kostas Katsoularis, Author and Journalist; President of the Hellenic Authors' Society
18:45–19:30 Lecture — Daniel Andler, Professor Emeritus of Philosophy, Sorbonne Université; Member of the Académie des sciences morales et politiques; Founder of the Département d'études cognitives, École Normale Supérieure; Knight of the French National Order of the Legion of Honour
Topic: Creativity, problem-solving and artificial intelligence
19:30–20:00 Q&A
Closing of the Conference: Anna Afentoulidou, Poet and Literary Critic; Secretary General of the Hellenic Authors' Society, Nikos Erinakis, Poet; Assistant Professor of Social & Political Philosophy and Philosophy of Culture, University of Crete, Treasurer of the Board, Hellenic Authors' Society